37680

1888.

PROCEEDINGS

OF THE

UNITED STATES

NAVAL INSTITUTE.

VOLUME XIV.

PUBLISHED QUARTERLY BY THE INSTITUTE.
ANNAPOLIS, MD.

Copyright, 1888, by RICHARD WAINWRIGHT,
Sec'y and Treas., U. S. Naval Institute.

PRESS OF ISAAC FRIEDENWALD,
BALTIMORE, MD.

CONTENTS.

No. 44.

Annual Address, 1888. By Rear-Admiral S. B. Luce, U. S. N., President of the U. S. Naval Institute, ... 1

The Naval Uses of the Pneumatic Torpedo Gun. By Captain E. L. Zalinski, U. S. A. With Discussion, ... 9

Rear-Admiral E. Simpson, 32.—Brigadier-General Henry L. Abbott, U. S. A., 35.—Lieutenant-Commander F. M. Barber, U. S. N., 36.—Commander Albert S. Barker, U. S. N., 42.—Professor Charles E. Munroe, 43.—Lieutenant Karl Rohrer, U. S. N., 44.—Lieutenant J. M. Bowyer, U. S. N., 44.—Lieutenant S. A. Staunton, U. S. N., 45.—Lieutenant Hamilton Hutchins, U. S. N., 47.—Commander Goodrich, U. S. N., 48.—Captain E. L. Zalinski, U. S. A., 50.

Notes on the Naval Brigade. By Ensign William Ledyard Rodgers, U. S. N., ... 57

The Resistance of Air to the Motion of Projectiles. By Major James M. Pollard, ... 97

Notes from the Journal of Lieutenant T. A. M. Craven, U. S. N., U. S. S. Dale, Pacific Squadron, 1846–49. I. (edited by Lieutenant Charles Belknap, U. S. N.), ... 119

Notes on the Literature of Explosives. XVI. By Professor Charles E. Munroe, ... 149

Our Naval Reserve and the Necessity for its Organization. By Captain A. P. Cooke, U. S. N. With Discussion, ... 169

Mr. J. W. Miller, 187.—Lieutenant J. C. Soley, U. S. N. (Retired), 189.—Lieutenant R. P. Rodgers, U. S. N., 193.—Lieutenant S. A. Staunton, U. S. N., 199.—Mr. J. Frederick Tams, 206.—Mr. Park Benjamin, 209.—Captain James Parker, 211.—Mr. W. A. W. Stewart, 213.—Captain A. R. Yates, U. S. N., 215.—Lieutenant-Commander C. H. Stockton, U. S. N., 219.—Prof. R. H. Thurston, 221.—W. Thornton Parker, M. D., 224.—Lieutenant-Commander W. W. Reisinger, U. S. N., 226.—Lieutenant Seaton Schroeder, U. S. N., 227.—Lieutenant W. H. Beehler, U. S. N., 229.

Aluminum Bronze for Heavy Guns. By Alfred H. Cowles. Discussion continued, ... 235

Lieutenant Karl Rohrer, U. S. N., 235.—Mr. Alfred H. Cowles, 236.—Mr. Henri Brivet, 240.—Mr. George Allan, 243.—Mr. James E. Howard, 244.—Commander Goodrich, U. S. N., 245.—Mr. Ben. M. Plumb, 246.—Sir William Thomson, 246.—Lieutenant-Colonel A. Mordecai, U. S. A., 246.

Professional Notes, ... 249

Bibliographic Notes, ... 277

Annual Report of the Secretary and Treasurer, ... 293

No. 45.

Notes from the Journal of Lieutenant T. A. M. Craven, U. S. N., U. S. S. Dale, Pacific Squadron, 1846–49. II. (edited by Lieutenant Charles Belknap, U. S. N.), ... 301

A New Method of Reducing Chronometrical Longitudes. By Ensign A. B. Clements, U. S. N., ... 337

Three Considered as a Tactical Unit. By Lieutenant D. H. Mahan, U. S. N. With Discussion, ... 343

Lieutenant-Colonel H. S. Hawkins, U. S. A., 363.—Lieutenant D. H. Mahan, U. S. N., 365, 374, 382, 390.—Lieutenant W. F. Fullam, U. S. N., 366.—Ensign F. J. Haeseler, U. S. N., 378.—Lieutenant L. W. V. Kennon, U. S. A., 385.

Velocities and Pressures in Guns. By Ensign J. H. Glennon, U. S. N., 395

Ignition of Explosive Mixture of Gases by Broken Incandescent Lamps. Experiments made at the Torpedo Station, Newport, R. I., by Lieutenant Hamilton Hutchins, U. S. N. Experiments made in the Physical Laboratory, U. S. Naval Academy, by Professor N. M. Terry, Ph. D., and Lieutenant T. B. Howard, U. S. N., . . . 419

Notes on the Literature of Explosives. XVII. By Professor Charles E. Munroe, ... 423

Professional Notes, ... 445

Bibliographic Notes, ... 471

No. 46.

Torpedoes. Prize Essay for 1888. By Lieutenant-Commander W. W. Reisinger, U. S. N., ... 483

Recollections of the Mexican War. By Lieutenant Stephen C. Rowan, U. S. N. (edited by Lieutenant George W. Tyler, U. S. N.), . . 530
Naval Administration. By Rear-Admiral S. B. Luce, U. S. N., . . 561
Comparison of Hotchkiss and Hebler Rifles, with Arguments favoring the Reduction of Caliber. By Ensign M. K. Eyre, U. S. N., . . 589
Professional Notes, ... 599
Book Notices, ... 606
Bibliographic Notes, ... 611

No. 47.

The Necessities and Objects of a Naval War College. By Captain A. T. Mahan, U. S. N., ... 621
Notes on Steel Inspection of Structural and Boiler Material. By Lieutenant-Commander J. G. Eaton, U. S. N., ... 641
An Essay on the Tactics of the Gun, as Discoverable from Type War-Ships. By Lieutenant J. F. Meigs, U. S. N., ... 655
A Study on Fighting Ships, by K. . . . Translated from the French by Professor Jules Leroux, U. S. Naval Academy, ... 699
Naval Administration. By Rear-Admiral Luce, U. S. N. Discussion, . 725
A Proposed System of Messing our Men-of-War. By Lieutenant Daniel Delehanty, U. S. N., and Discussion, ... 739
Notes on the Literature of Explosives. XVIII. By Professor Charles E. Munroe, ... 751
Professional Notes, ... 775
Book Notices, ... 781
Bibliographic Notes, ... 783